

COLLABORATIVE EXCELLENCE

#CapturingEveryLeaf #ExperienceMarketing #CultureDriven

#NicheMarketing Case Study by

nichify.

The Premise

This project tested our collaborative excellence at the intersection of three brands, crafting a vibrant terrarium workshop experience.

CrazyFlora's brand-in-a-bottle concept helps people create ecosystems within fish bowls - perfect for busy corporate employees seeking new hobbies and Instagram-worthy moments.

Our Objective: Capture this curated experience while managing people and events seamlessly.

The Niche

Target Location

4 Techparks across Bengaluru

Audience

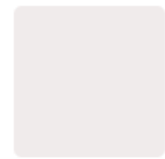

Corporate employees in tech sector

Demographics

Age 25-50, Male and Female professionals

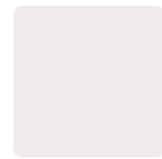

The Play

We captured moments that unified 4 techparks into one continuous community engaged in terrarium creation.

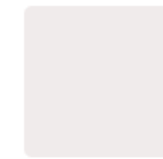

Community Connection

Showcased laughter, excitement, and focus across all workshop visuals

Authentic Voices

Conducted engaging interviews capturing genuine opinions and feedback

Visual Storytelling

Documented the complete journey through 4 days of videography sessions

The Echo

5-10

Videos Delivered

Professional content reaching Brigade audiences

5K+

Internal Reach

Employees across 3 partner organizations

10K+

Stakeholder Impact

Extended network engagement potential

Content flexibility enables each client to adapt materials for social media and corporate communications.

Services Delivered

Content Strategy

Comprehensive planning for multi-brand collaboration and audience engagement

Video Production

Complete videography and editing services across all workshop sessions

Event Management

Seamless coordination of workshops across 4 Bengaluru tech parks

The Takeaway

This collaborative experience demonstrates our agency's flexibility and agility, working seamlessly with three organizations while meeting individual requirements.

Four days of production delivered seamless project execution and ensured client satisfaction across all stakeholders.

"For CrazyFlora, this wasn't just a workshop - it was an experience so unique that they wanted to raise awareness through visually appealing content."

Terrariums: a world within a bowl, an experience shared, and a story told.

